ESHOLT VISITOR CENTRE CONTRACT

25th January 2009

SBU is pleased to announce that they have been awarded the contract to construct the new flagship visitor centre at Yorkshire Waters largest Waste Water Treatment Works at Esholt, Bradford.

The contract involves a complete renovation of the old laboratory building, including floors, windows and doors. The conversion work is to be carried out using 'green' methodology, to ensure as much of the waste produced during the conversion is recycled, inline with the 'green' theme. Also rainwater harvesting, solar water heating as well as general heating for the building coming from the incinerator are just some of the ideas being incorporated into the project
